

ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

Looking to elevate your career by joining a great team? Westbound Communications is looking for a talented Account Executive with 3+ years of public relations experience to join our Orange office.

Westbound has been around for 16 years – making clients happy every step of the way. We work in health care, food, consumer and government. The programs we work on truly make a difference in people's lives, like our campaign to end the stigma associated with mental health. If you like to WIN (awards!), this is the place for you. Our team of high-achievers believes in giving the biggest ideas and the best client service to our clients. And we have a lot of fun doing it!

What are we looking for?

- 3+ years of public relations experience
- Track record of working with media and influencers
- Multicultural experience and bilingual Spanish skills are a plus
- Strong experience with social media platforms
- Excellent writing skills (media materials, collateral, presentations)
- Ability to work with community and business leaders
- Able to manage multiple priorities and deadlines; superior organizational skills
- Excitement about learning new things
- Agency experience a plus
- Bachelor's degree in communications or business highly desirable

If you think this description fits you and you are looking for a position with growth opportunity, please send your resume to lmartin@westboundcommunications.com along with a note explaining why you think you are the right candidate.

Westbound offers a great team culture where successes are recognized and rewarded. Our office in Orange is dog-friendly, work schedules are flexible and we provide a comprehensive compensation package including vacations, health benefits, spot bonuses and a retirement plan. And did we mention we close at 2 p.m. on Fridays?
